SYNOPSIS:

Relationships and communication across the generations are sometimes filled with tension and misunderstanding. Each generation often carries certain unspoken assumptions about the other, and we may have default ways of communicating that can hinder inter-generational understanding.

EAST and Capelle are hosting a face-to-face dialogue to bring the generations together for a time of honest conversations. Hear from our panel featuring individuals in their 30s to 60s, on how we can unlearn and relearn healthy ways to relate to one another, build a culture of inter-generational dialogue, and affirm the unique value that each generation brings to the family of God.

WHAT WE WILL DISCUSS:

- Pain points of inter-generational communication
- Practical dos and don'ts to build effective communication
- How to engage each generation in the area of their strengths

We invite pastors and leaders to bring along one or two younger staff members you work closely with to learn together as a team.

Seating capacity is limited and registration is on a first-come, first-served basis. Registration is open only for those in Singapore as this is an in-person event.
